Legislators Prevented From Convening For Purpose Of Impeaching
Jack Walton, Governor

Oklahoma, City, Okla., Sept., 26.—The Oklahoma legislators attempting to convene for the impeachment of Governor Jack Walton, were dispersed before the door of the hall of representatives today by the Oklahoma national guard.

The legislators left the capitol building silently. There was no demonstration.

Court action will be initiated at once, according to Representative W. D. McBee, to establish their right to meet despite orders forbidding the session issued by Governor Walton.

The insurgent legislators had been gathering at the capitol building throughout the morning preparatory to an attempt to convene in extraordinary session at noon today.

A few minutes before noon they started crowding about the locked doors to the hall of representatives. The military increased its guard to ten armed men.

Exactly at noon as the representatives prepared to step forward toward the guard, a shout from the entrance to the senate chamber directly across the lobby attracted their attention.

Col. W. S. Key of the national guard asked them to assemble about him. They did so silently, meanwhile the governor's private gunmen and detectives surrounded the crowd. Col. Key then read an order signed by Adjutant General Baird Markham, informing the representatives that the governor warned them not to attempt to convene. The conclusion of the order instructed the legislators to disperse.

The crowd melted silently. They left the capitol in a body discussing the developments in low tones.

ROTARIANS TO ATTEND INTER-STATE MEETING

Delegation From Rushville Club Going To Shelbyville Thursday
Evening

BUSINESS METHODS TOPIC

A delegation of twenty-five or thirty Rotarians will go to Shelbyville Thursday evening for an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs representing Greensburg, Franklin, Shelbyville and Rushville. Judge Will M. Sparks of this city will be one of the speakers at the meeting, which will open with a dinner at the Elks club at 6:15 o'clock.

Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Indiana district governor of Rotary clubs will speak on "Business Methods," and Frank Floyd of Indianapolis, former president of the Indianapolis Rotary club and chairman of the Rotary district Riley Memorial hospital committee, will also be provided.

At this meeting Governor Sapp will announce the appointment of a new group representative to succeed Eugene Pulliam, who will leave Franklin October 1 to assume management of The Lebanon Reporter which he recently purchased. Mr. Pulliam will be in charge of the program at Shelbyville Thursday night. The Shelbyville club has arranged a delightful entertainment program and the meeting is expected to be a red letter event in Group Six activities.

FOUNDATION IS COMPLETED

I. & C. Workmen Move to Gwynneville to Start Another Substation

The concrete work and foundation for the new sub-station located four miles west of Connersville on the I. & C. traction line, has been completed and the gang of workmen has moved to Gwynneville to begin construction work on a similar plant there.

The new sub-station is the first to be under construction in preparation for the change that is to be made in the current on the system, in order to make way for the new cars and equipment that is ordered for the extension to Cincinnati. Charles L. Henry, president of the traction company and Amos Baxter, superintendent, visited the new sub-station Tuesday.

Republican State Committee Pre-

McCrays Request

REFUSED BY STATE CHAIRMAN

Marion County Grand Jury Will Begin Investigation Of His Affairs Monday

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept., 26.—Republican leaders went ahead today with their plans to hold a meeting of the state committee next Monday to determine the attitude the party will take toward Governor McCray in his personal financial reverses despite the governor's request for a postponement of the meeting.

State Chairman Walb refused to delay the meeting, stating that all arrangements had been made and further delay would be out of the question. The attitude around Republican headquarters seems to be that the sooner the whole affair is given an airing the better it will be for the governor and the party.

Other factors in the tangled situation are:

The Marion county grand jury will meet Monday to investigate some of the obligations sold by McCray to banks. Requests for a grand jury probe was made by Gus Conde, representing the Marion National Bank, at Marion, Ind.

Acceptance of the trust agreement whereby McCray is seeking to turn over his property to his creditors is not being hurried by his creditors. In some quarters it is said to be doubtful whether the agreement will be approved within the prescribed 30 day period, dating from Sept. 7.

The circuit court at Kentland, McCray's home town will meet Oct. 8 to determine future action on numerous suits pending against McCray in that court.

Condo, who is pressing the grand jury investigation of McCray's affairs

trict Gather at Newcastle Today
For Conference

MCRAE AFFAIRS GOSSIP

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 26.—Republican politicians from the sixth congressional district gathered here today for a party conference, one of a series being held throughout the state.

Gossip concerning the financial affairs of Governor McCray and the probable action of the state committee was the chief topic of conversation and the party workers, seeking to learn new inside information on the subject, flocked here in large numbers.

Clyde A. Walb, state chairman, was one of the early arrivals. He refused to discuss the McCray affair and was closeted in conference most of the morning with George Elliott, district chairman.

Senator James E. Watson, Congressman Elliott and Chairman Walb will speak at the meeting.

Prosecution Finally Makes Affidavit

Trial Date is Set

"THIRD TIME THE CHARM"

Grand Jury Indictment And First Amended Affidavit Found Faulty
by Special Judge

Another hearing was held this morning in the circuit court in the case of the State against Capp Miller, charged with the unlawful possession of a still, and after the third attempt to make the charge stand, the case was set for trial on November 6.

The defendant was first charged with a grand jury indictment and last Saturday Judge Craig of Greensburg, special judge in the cause, sustained motions to quash the counts, and the indictment was thrown out of court.

The state in turn filed a new affidavit, and this morning the special judge was here again to hear the motions to quash the affidavit, and he again found the three counts faulty, and sustained the motion to quash.

The judge likewise granted the state leave to amend once more, and this was done, and the affidavit was held good by the court. The defendant was arraigned on the amended affidavit and pleaded not guilty, and the case set for trial November 6. A motion to quash the search warrant and to suppress the evidence obtained, is still pending.

Lester Caron, who is charged jointly with James Cranley of a charge of unlawful transportation of liquor, has filed a motion to be tried separately, and the motion was granted by the court. The defendant Caron is scheduled for trial next Monday.

Mabelle M. Sampson is plaintiff in a suit filed against Oakley Sampson of Arlington, in which she demands support money, alleging that her husband has abandoned her and is failing to provide.

In her complaint she sets out the fact that since their separation, her husband filed suit for divorce in the court here, and that on May, 19, 1923 the evidence was heard and he was refused a divorce.

Since that period, she alleges that he failed to support her, and she asks that the court compel him to pay $10 a week towards her support

ARRANGEMENTS WILL STAND No Change To Be Made In Plan sFor World's Series

New York, Sept., 26.—Arrangements announced for the world's series by Commissioner Landis will stand without further amendment since the New York Giants have all but officially clinched the National League pennant.

Regardless of the fact that they have officially won the American League pennant, the club officials of the Yankees are accepting no more orders for tickets, however, until it is known positively that the Cincinnati Reds will not have a part in the world's series.

For the same reason the owners of the Giants are not selling tickets. As announced by Commissioner Landis, the series will start in the new Yankee stadium on Wednesday, October 10th at 2 o'clock.

Orange township was represented today by a delegation of its business men, at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club, when the program inaugurated several months ago by the club was continued, as one meeting each month is set apart to entertain representatives from the various townships.

The club today continued to hold praise over the recent election at South Bend, when J. T. Arbuckle was elected governor and Omer Trusler, his secretary, and the local club will launch a concerted effort to establish future glory by making a campaign for the "Friendship Cup," to be awarded to the club making the best attendance report during a four weeks period.

Governor-elect Arbuckle welcomed the visiting delegation from Orange township, by explaining to them the purposes and accomplishments of Kiwanis, impressing upon the visitors that the club stood for anything that was good and beneficial

FRANCE WILL NOT ANSWER AT ONCE

Germany's Official Proclamation Announcing End of Resistance Will
Not Draw Immediate Reply

DEVELOPMENTS ARE AWAITED

Admission by Germany That She
Has Again Been Brought to Her
Knees by France

Paris, Sept. 26.—Germany's official proclamation announcing the end of passive resistance in the Ruhr will not draw any immediate reply from France, a semi-official statement indicated today.

Premier Poincare will await three developments before even considering the German surrender, the statement said:

- 1—Official notification of the cessation of resistance.
- 2—Definite propositions from Germany.
- 3—Return to work of the German population of the occupied areas.

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The end of Germany's passive resistance to Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr was proclaimed officially today.

The proclamation declared the government will not sign any agreement tearing away any portion of the nation from the Reich.

The end of resistance came after nine months. It was Germany's admission she has lost the "war after the war" and has again been brought to her knees by France.

The Reich's government now can only await the reaction in allied capitals and hope for leniency from Premier Poincare.

It was assumed copies of the proclamation with the official information that Germany has surrendered will be dispatched immediately to Paris, Brussels and London.

The Stressman government, it was indicated, will attempt to save its face by a complete but dignified admission of capitulation.

There will be no whining. The government feels the German people have fought an honorable battle and lost. They now must accept whatever consequences are in store for them.

Issuance of the proclamation today came after the cabinet's decision last Wednesday that unconditional surrender was inevitable because of the financial situation, as outlined exclusively by the United Press dispatches at that time.

FORMERLY LIVED IN COUNTY

Mrs. E. E. Hackleman Dies At Her Home In Anderson This Morning

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. E. E. Hackleman, wife of Dr. E. E. Hackleman, of Anderson, and a former resident of Center township, this county, which occurred suddenly this morning at five o'clock, death being caused from heart trouble. No arrangements have been made as to the time of the funeral, as word was awaited from a sister in Kansas.

Mrs. Hackleman is known in this city, having visited here on a number of occasions with her husband, who is related to the Hacklemans of this city and county. He is now a retired dentist of Anderson and is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hackleman.

REMUS IS FREED ON $2,000 BOND

Cincinnati Attorney Arrested At Shelbyville For Unlawful Transportation Of Liquor

OWNER ABANDONED MACHINE

Denies He Knew Anything About
Liquor Found In Auto In Accident
West Of Here Sept. 17

George Remus, Cincinnati attorney who was suspected of being the owner of the large booze laden machine that was abandoned near Morristown, on the road west of here, September 17, following an accident with another car, appeared Tuesday afternoon at Shelbyville to claim the machine, and was arrested on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor.

When the machine was abandoned it contained 80 gallons of Canadian liquor, and authorities traced several clues which pointed to the fact that Remus owned the car. Remus is styled "King of Bootleggers" by authorities of many cities. In commenting upon the matter, the Shelbyville Democrat relates the following:

A plea of not guilty to the charge was entered by Remus in police court Tuesday afternoon. Bond in the case was fixed at $2,000, which Remus was unable to provide at the time. He argued that a bond of $1,000 was sufficient in the case, but Mayor Lee B. Hoop refused to reduce the amount. Remus retained ex-Judge Alonzo Blair for the defense and later issued a check for $2,000 and left his Marmon roadster, which he drove here, as security for the check.

Remus denied that he was an occupant of the automobile that was abandoned with the supply of liquor on the road east of Morristown. The accident occurred when the booze car crashed into the automobile owned and driven by Fred Cox, of Morristown. The two men in the liquor car left the place and the next morning were said to have boarded an interurban car for Indianapolis.

According to Remus, the Marmon touring car, which was being used in transporting liquor, was the property of his wife and was stolen from the parking place in Cincinnati, O., where she had left the machine. He had no knowledge of the car being used in transporting liquor, he informed Prosecutor Me-

Indian and Family Take Up Abode at Tourists Camp

Long Eagle, a real-for-sure American Indian, together with his family, has taken up abode in Memorial park, and Mr. Eagle is employed as a teamster for the Reynolds Manufacturing Company.

The Indians came here this week from northern Michigan, and so far they have been unable to secure a house. The next best thing was to pitch camp on the free tourist grounds in the park, and they will remain there until a vacant house can be secured. The family consists of four children, one of whom entered the city schools here Tuesday.

LOCAL LODGEMENT TO BOOST TRABUE

Feel Confident Of Electing Rushville
Man As Grand Outer Guard Of
Knights Of Pythias

DEFEATED BY 1 VOTE IN 1922

Members Of Rushville And Milroy
Lodges Will Attend Grand Lodge
Meeting Next Week

Knights of Pythias, representing the two lodges in Rush county, located at Milroy and this city, are preparing to attend the Grand Lodge meeting of the order at Indianapolis, October 1 to 5, and boost the candidacy of Samuel L. Trabue of this city, who seeks the office of Grand Outer Guard.

Mr. Trabue was in the field last year, and lost the office by only one vote, and it is believed that he has a fine chance of being elected this year. His only opposition is Othniel Hitch of Indianapolis, and the local man has been making a big campaign for the office throughout the state in order to overcome any opposition.

A one day session of the Uniform Rank, the military division of the order, will open the convention Monday, October 1. The fifty-fifth annual state meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held October 2 and 3. The convention of the Pythian Sisters will be held October 4 and 5.

More than 2,000 delegates are expected to attend the five-day convention. They will represent 464 subordinate Pythian lodges and 400 Pythian Sister Temples.

Memorial services for the 853 members of the organization who have died within the last year and special services for two past grand chancellors, George W. Powell, Indianapolis, and William P. Hart, Huntington, will be held October 2 at 11 o'clock. William L. Heiskell, Indianapolis, a past grand chancellor will make the memorial address.

George C. Cabel, Norfolk, Va., supreme chancellor, will speak Tuesday. The election of officers will be held the same day. In many instances the election will be a ritualistic rotation and in other cases there are more than one candidate for office. Ralph W. Gaylor, Mishawaka, is the present grand chancellor. Automatically he will become a past grand chancellor, and Elmer Bassett, of Shelbyville, will succeed him. Mr. Bassett is the grand vice-chancellor at the present time. Dore B. Erwin, Decatur, who is now grand prelate, will be

CONCERT TO MARK CLOSING OF PARK

Community Orchestra Will Appear
at Coliseum Sunday Afternoon
Under A. P. Wagoner's Direction

EQUIPMENT TO BE STORED

The Community orchestra, under the leadership of A. P. Wagoner held the regular weekly practice Tuesday night in the coliseum at Memorial park, in preparation for the concert that they will give Sunday afternoon in the coliseum.

The concert Sunday will mark the close of the park for the present season, and a large turnout is expected. The concert is to be free, and the musicians are deserving of a large crowd.

The playground equipment will be removed next week, and stored for the winter, and Eli Hardwick, custodian of the park, will retire for the present season.

It is believed that the closing event for the park will be a big feature, and it is being planned to have Sunday concerts at frequent intervals next summer, in order to afford people some place to go on Sunday afternoons, instead of seeking other parks and diversions, away from home. The program for the concert will be announced later.

LABOR TO BOOST GOVERNOR SMITH

Friends Preparing Demonstration For Him When American Federation Of Labor Meets

TO SEE HOW WEST REACTS

Governor Of New York Would Have Excellent Chance Of Presidential Election, Labor Thinks

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept., 26. —Gov. Al Smith of New York will be given a great boost for the Presidency by his friends among organized labor when the American Federation of Labor convention meets in Portland, Ore., in October, according to well laid plans.

Some of Smith's enthusiastic friends — and he has great hosts of them among labor — are preparing to create a demonstration for him in the convention. This, report has it, is to be staged during a discussion of labor's political activities in the 1924 campaign.

At the last A. F. of L. convention in Cincinnati Senator La Follette was given a sort of semi-official endorsement for President — an endorsement that did not bind organized labor, as such, or any individual member to get behind La Follette. It was just one of those "whoop-hurrah" endorsements that was perfectly natural for a labor assemblage to give, because La Follette is undeniably a friend of labor. He was for a long time the only man in Congress who spoke a word for organized workers. He did not forget the city workers even when the great clamor in Congress centered about the plight of the farmer.

Labor is for La Follette, and if he were a candidate he would poll a heavy labor vote. But labor is pretty hard-headed about some things, and clearheaded, too. There is a strong feeling among the A. F. of L. that La Follette could not be elected, and that labor support for him might simply result in letting some one less friendly to the workers get into the Presidency.

Al Smith, many labor leaders think would have an excellent chance of election if nominated by the Democratic Convention. They believe the Portland convention would be a good chance to see how the West reacts to Smith. They have heard that he would be beaten west of the Mississippi River. Their plan is to test sentiment for him out there.

Labor claims Smith's election as Governor, the last time was the direct result of the workers' activities. He is one of the men labor claims to have elected.

There will be no attempt labor leaders says, to put the Portland convention formally on record as favoring any candidate for the Presidency. The Smith demonstration will be entirely unofficial and will be simply a "trial balloon."

MUCH PAVING BY COMMISSION

Summer and Fall Rains Delayed Program of Paving in Indiana, J. N. Williams Says

156 MILES THIS YEAR

Commission Plans to Make 400 Miles of Hard Surfaced Roads a Standard For Each Year

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 26.—Approximately 156 miles of hard-surfaced roads will have been laid by the state highway commission by the time winter stops construction work, John N. Williams, director of the commission, said today.

The unusual amount of rain which has fallen in Indiana this year has delayed the road building program seriously, he said.

For the future, the commission contemplates a program of 400 miles a year, Williams said. The state is rapidly linking the more important towns and cities throughout the state with concrete or other hard surfaced roads.

Perhaps one of the most important achievements of the commission this year was finishing the final stretches of the National road between Richmond, Indianapolis and Terre Haute. It is now possible for a resident of Terre Haute to drive his car to Washington, D. C., without driving on any but paved roads.

The day of impassable roads, bottomless chuck-holes and shaky bridges will soon be almost forgotten at the rate the highway commission is forging the links in the chain of intra-state communication.

For the month of August, approximately $1,000,000 was expended for the construction of 32,276 miles of roads, including the coat of cement, Williams said. The payroll for draftsmen, field engineers and inspectors totaled $29,595.62 for the same period. Bridges under construction in August totaled 66.

THE GOODNESS OF GOD:—

Trade Builds Cities

If merchants and their helpers
were not a pretty good natured class
of people, whose rough edges have been worn away by much contact with their home folks, they would have reason to get irritated at times.

There are some people who will send off or go to distant cities and make important purchases of clothing and house furnishings. Then when they find that they want some little trifling article in a hurry, they will rush down to the home store
and demand that it be supplied them
instantly, and blame the store if it does not have precisely what they want. They expect these stores to keep stocked up all the time on a wide variety of goods, yet they will not help supply the all around patronage which is the only basis for keeping such a general stock.

It is a tremendous convenience and
advantage to have a fine group of retail stores in town. Such establishments connect a community with sources of supply that deal all over the world. A good store supplies the comforts and essentials of civilization, and it is a wonderful benefit to have it, close by where you can call on its service at any moment, and
get its supplies and its advice.

But people can not expect to have the kind of stores their community is entitled to on the basis of its population and wealth, if they are constantly running off to other places to buy goods. Unless they give their patronage to their home stores,
the home stores can not serve them
efficiently.

It is well to remember that the
home stores and the men who own

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Saturday, Sept., 26, 1908

One of the greatest political battles ever fought in Indiana came to a close today when the county option bill was passed in the legislative halls in Indianapolis. The vote was better than the most sanguine Republican anticipated, being 55 for it and 45 against the measure. The galleries and lobbies were packed with tensely interested spectators who came to witness the last battle over the great temperance measure.

The sixth annual horse show was would-be burglars.

The Rushville high school football team accompanied by a few loy-

Shelbyville where they play their first game of the season there this afternoon. The line-up of the local team was Buell, left end; Oneal, left tackle; Kenner, left guard; Wallace, center; Gunning, right guard; Hip-per, right tackle; Heeb, right end;
Monjar, quarter; Williams, left half;
J. Moffett, captain, full back; H.
Moffett, right half; Substitute,
Downey and Humes. Ben Sparks refereed the game.

Current Comment

Freight Rates On Grain (Urbana, Ill., Courier)

If you were to believe our radical politicians, the farmer's troubles would be forever solved if his freight rates were reduced. None of these "Voices of the People" ever raises his voice without alluding to this stumbling block in the road to prosperity of the farmer.

Looking up the old files of the Courier, the market reports showed that on June 30, 1922, cash wheat in Chicago brought $1.15, and on the same date this year it sold for $1.05.
The freight rate had not been changed during that period, and the fluctuation during that year was greater than even the wildest eyed demagogue proposes to cut freight rates. In other words, if freight rates had been cut in two this summer, the farmer of Illinois having wheat to sell would still get less for this product than he would have a year ago.
Then there is corn. What would you say the effect of freight rates
was on that product? On June 30, 1922, cash corn sold in Chicago at 63 cents. A year later the quotation was 81 cents. During the year, with freight charges remaining the same,
wheat declined 10 cents a bushel in price, and corn improved 19 cents.
If the decline in wheat price is due to the freight rate, why not also grant that the gain in corn is chargeable to the same influence?
How can a freight rate work in opposite directions at the same time?

Yet the politicians are riding into office on a whoop and hurrah campaign in which the farmer is to get relief from the oppression of the railroads. Boy, the railroads may be guilty of all the mean things said about them, but the real nigger in the woodpile is something entirely different. Crucifying the railroads or shooting them at sunrise or turning them over to the government for operation will not alter the fact that wheat went down 10 to 15 cents a bushel in a year and corn went up approximately 20 to 25 cents in the same time, and under precisely the same transportation conditions.

ADVANCING years should not mean the approach of a period
of dependency—of crutches and canes
—of worry, care and fatigue!

vantages of passing years, while

ARLINGTON TO PLAY FIRST GAME SUNDAY

Athletic Club Football Team Will
Take on South Paw A. C. of Indianapolis in Opener

LINE-UPS ARE ANNOUNCED

The Arlington Athletic Club football team will open their football season Sunday with the South Paw A. C. Club of Indianapolis as opponents. This team played under the name of the Marion Ramblers last year and played the opening game with Arlington, which resulted in a tie, 7-7. Sunday's game should be as close as last year.

The South Paws have in their lineup Williams, capt. and QB, Stewart C. Baur, RG, McIntire RT, Crozier LT, Nevies RE, Smithers LE, Mathers and Aubers at halves and Dempsey at full and Patton LG. The Arlington team will probably line up as follows: T. Wilcoxen center, Updike and Alsop guards, Rohm and Kemp tackles, Wilson and Winslow ends, Woodruff or K. Wilcoxen QB, Trishman and Northam halves, and Wicker full, with Headlee, Wilson, K. Wilcoxen and Overman in reserve.

The schedule so far announced, after Sunday's game is as follows: Oct. 7, Cumberland A. C. at Arlington; Oct. 14, Greenwood American Legion at Arlington; Oct. 21, at Gosport; Oct. 28 at Linden; Nov. 4, Wilkinson at Arlington.

The Score Board

Irish Mensei drove in the run in the third inning that gave the Giants a 3 to 2 victory over the Reds and increased their lead to four full games.

Ty Cobb, batting as pinch hitter, started a rally in the ninth inning that netted three runs and the Tigers won from the Yanks 5 to 4.

Bell, a rookie short stop, drove in two runs and helped the Cards defeat the Robins 4 to 1.

Four pitchers failed to stop the Pirates and the Phils went down 18 to 5.

Good pitching by Harris, Rommel and Meeker gave the Athletics a double victory over the Indians at 6 to 5 and 5 to 1.

Timely hitting off Leverette and Blankenship enabled the Senators to beat the White Sox 5 to 2.

Ten hits by the Browns caused the defeat of the Red Sox 8 to 2.

The Cubs were stopped by Jess Barnes and the Braves won 2 to 0.

ASSISTANT ON PAPER

Leroy Edwards, a graduate of the local high school last year, has been made assistant circulation manager of the Franklin College paper. During his senior year he was business manager of the Holoand, the class annual, and advertising manager of the Rushlight.

TO BE HELD AT COLUMBUS

Horse Thief Detective Association
Here to be Represented

The National Horse Thief Detective Association will hold its 63rd annual convention at Columbus, Ind., Oct. 4 and 5, and that city is preparing to care for from 250 to 350 delegates. The arrangements committee of the Chamber of Commerce is taking care of the housing problem during the convention, as the hotels have a limit of accommodation to 150 delegates. Many members, other than delegates, are also expected to be in attendance at the meeting.

Will M. McMillin is the delegate from the local branch of the association and Frank Sample is the alternate. It is expected that other members of the association in the county will be in attendance.

WALTON PUTS OUT PAPER

Albridge Blake, executive counselor to the governor, is editor. The first edition, a four page, seven column folder, will be scattered broadcast throughout the state. It carried extracts from testimony obtained by the military investigating committee.

LEVEE HEARING HELD
Princeton, Sept. 26—Representatives of the war department were here today to hold a hearing on the petition for permission to construct the proposed Wabash-Patoka levee. Hearings on the proposal for the construction of the levee have already been held in the Gibson county circuit court. If the federal authorities give their approval to the project, the local hearings will be resumed in October.

Won Place in Public's Heart

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Sept. 26—Jack Dempsey once remarked during a general discussion of his business that the life of a heavyweight champion was anything but rosy, because he could have so few friends upon whom he could depend.

“The tough thing about this business is that you have to lose to find out who are really your friends,” Dempsey said. “This real test comes when you are defeated and you call the roll of alleged friends and find out how many of them have not gone to the winner's dressing room.”

The champion's theory was proved at least partially during his fight with Luis Firpo. He didn't lose, of course, but came nearer to defeat than any fighter could and escape with a victory.

Dempsey had to be knocked clear out of the ring, punched to his knees twice and pounded all over the ring to attain the position as a real popular champion.

Perhaps the most pleasing experience Dempsey brought out of that hectic evening came when he heard the pack yelling wildly: “Come on, Jack!” as he was pulling himself into the ring and when he realized that at last he had some big part of the public back of him.

Sitting in the front row of the ringside seats, back of the press pit, was a boxing manager, who had been Dempsey's most bitter critic, a man who had gone out of his way to express his bitter contempt of the champion as a personality and a fighter. He said when he came to the ringside before the fight that he had paid his way into a fight for the first time in his life in the hope that he could see Dempsey “knocked dead.”

When Dempsey was knocked out of the ring down into the lap of a sport writer, when he pulled himself gamely back into the ring and when he stood almost helpless against the ropes within one good of being knocked out, this fight manager, who had come to see him “knocked dead,” was the loudest among those who were shouting in a frenzy: “Come on, Jack; come on!”

After the fight this same manager remarked that he was for Dempsey. “That fellow is a great fighter. I don't believe there ever was a greater fighter. He's game and he's got a heart as big as a mountain. I was wrong about his fighting ability and it stands to reason that I may have been just as wrong about him in other things,” he said.

REMIS IS FREED ON $2,000 BOND

Lane this afternoon.
Mr. Remus said he had been informed by J. L. Mount and Mr. Richards, federal prohibition agents stationed at Toledo, O., and attached to the Washington, D. C. office, that they had investigated the finding of the automobile and liquor near Morristown and said they had told him that they were convinced the automobile had been stolen. Remus said that their statement induced him to come here today to claim the automobile. According to Sheriff J. J. Smith, the investigation of the case has been in charge of W. H. Holman, federal prohibition agent.

Remus was questioned by the authorities and said that he had been a criminal lawyer in Cincinnati, O., all his life until he became engaged in his present business, which he said was the “whiskey business.” He admitted that he had been arrested and convicted in the Ohio federal court on a charge of violating the federal prohibition law. He was fined $10,000 and sentenced to one year in the federal prison, he admitted, but had taken the case to the U. S. court of appeals, where it is now pending, he said.

Reports that Remus is worth possibly a million dollars were referred to Remus when he asserted he could not raise the $2,000 amount of the bond fixed. He stated that the Cincinnati banks are closed early in the afternoon and that it would be impossible to secure the amount on the moment's notice.

TO THE MAN—

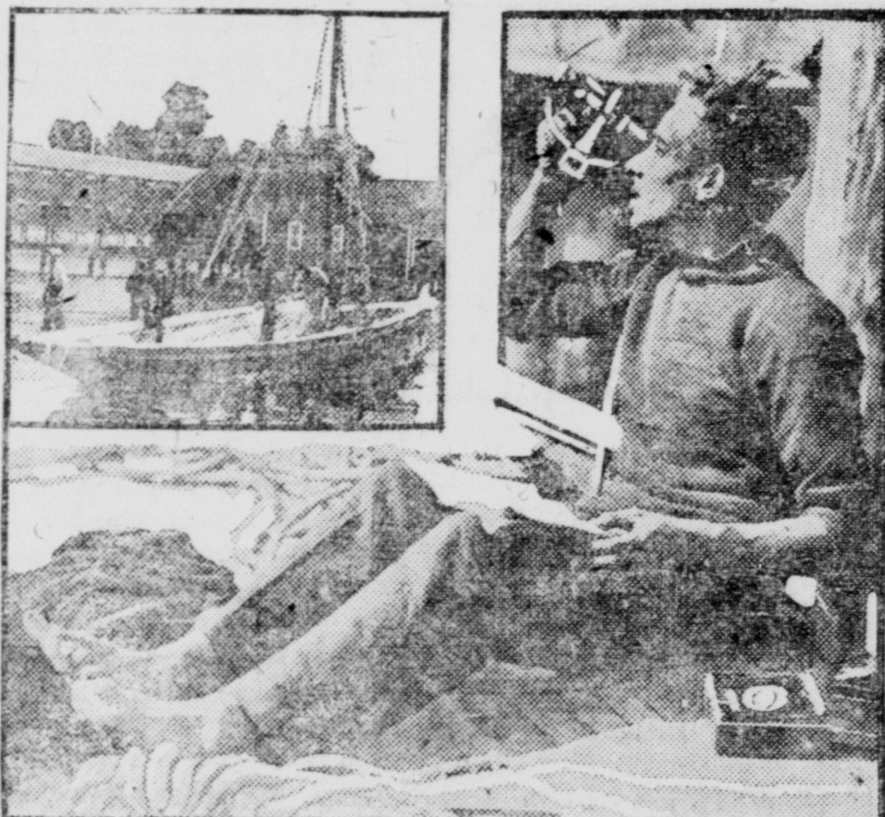

Who knows a good thing when he sees it,
Who is the “live wire” business man in his locality,
Who has both feet on the ground and can see into the future, his opportunity to grow bigger—To this man this message is dedicated.

We are one of the oldest and largest automobile concerns in the country. Our financial resources are second to none. We will announce about October 4th, a new 6 cylinder automobile, representing the utmost mechanical superiority and engineering principles. The production on this new model will run in excess to 150,000 cars.

Think of a Light 6 that will sell from $750.00 to $775.00 f. o. b. or closed models that will sell from $900.00 to $1095.00 f. o. b. Think what this means to YOU? To the man with the above qualifications it means his opportunity, not only to make money, but an opportunity to see his business grow and expand into the largest in his community.

BIG TEN BRIEFS

Chicago—Problems of developing an attack for the Michigan Aggies game, here Saturday, occupied the time of the University of Chicago football squad as Coach Stagg drove his men through a long session of line charging plays. Chicago is expected to use line smashes, almost exclusively against the Aggies.

Urbana, Ill.—Scrimmage was again given to the Illinois gridders yesterday. Coach Zupke declared that no formations had been exchanged with Coach Fred Dawson of Nebraska and that the game would be played in the same fashion as any other. The Illinois mentor will have his team try out air currents in the new stadium on Saturday.

Evanston, Ill.—That the aerial attack will not be overlooked by Northwestern this year was shown when Coach Thistlethwaite drilled his men for over an hour on hurling and receiving passes. The linemen were given instructions on defensive work by E. A. Maier, wrestling instructor at the university.

Lafayette—Coach Paclan is working out two freshmen squads against the varsity in hard daily scrimmages. The Boilermarkers are giving a lot of attention to offensive tactics. Bloomington—Under a new policy adopted by the Indiana University coaches, the freshmen will be used against the varsity only once a week. Coach Gardner is trying out his varsity backs in all kinds of formations to see what plays they can put over best.

With resistance costing upwards of $5,000,000 a week and the mark so valueless that quotations on it had been stopped by many banks, the government had no other choice but surrender.

First the Rhine and Ruhr leaders were called in and told of the decision. They assented when they saw continuation of the fight was impossible.

Yesterday the state premiers met the chancellor and decided to support his decision.

more people of the great industrial region.

Proof of this state, the government admitted is to be found on every corner in the Ruhr territory. The administration's liberal hand which poured money lavishly into the Ruhr has turned many of the workers into parasites.

The Ruhr has lost its sense of morals.

Not only the needy and deserving received handsome doles from the treasury of the Reich but business men of greater or lesser wealth literally have waxed fat off the nation's generosity.

Finance Minister Hilffording said: “Almost the entire population of the occupied territories was supported through national funds. The people now must comprehend with what great expense means.

“And the matter did not end with mere expense of supporting the population. We were forced to provide in ever-increasing measure actual capital for the territory.

“There were no markets and no sales. Factories only worked to fill up their supplies and occupy employees in some manner without really creating any wealth.

“Workers had no income and demand that wages and other costs be borne by the government. Even lawyers, doctors and artists claimed their share of governmental support.”

The West Phalian People's paper, confirming the minister's statements said:

“The lack of conscience and morality grew so rapidly after the Ruhr invasion that soon everybody knew how to get large sums without effort. “Anyone who did not understand how to fill his pockets was regarded as an ass.

“If the documents showing the pretenses for demanding help were months of fighting without arms has opened, the people would be disgusted, demoralized the once hard-working ed at the revelations.

Publisher Of Local Weekly Newspaper Sues Three Subscribers

James E. Naden, publisher of a local weekly newspaper, is plaintiff in three suits on accounts filed in Stech's court against alleged delinquent subscribers. He demands $12 judgment from Henry L. Wills, maintaining that his subscription is in arrears from June 2, 1921 to June 2, 1922; from John Hammer the plaintiff demands $5.00 judgment for the paper from August 12, 1918 to November 20, 1922, and from John Tribby the demand is for $20.46 for delinquent advertising and subscription account.

The court has set the cases for trial with the Wills case set for October 3, the Hammer case on October 4, and the Tribby case on October 5.

CLUB ENTERTAINS ORANGE TOWNSHIP

to the farmers, or to the community. Mr. Arbuckle stated that last year at the International convention of the Kiwanis clubs at every club pledged to do work in uplifting and helping the underprivileged children, and he called attention to the fact that the clubs in this state had subscribed $150,000 toward the Riley Memorial hospital, which is being built for the purpose of taking care of sick and children that need medical attention.

Mr. Arbuckle said that the local club long ago instituted the plan in this county of going into the community and being entertained by church organizations, and that they had derived much good from the community sessions. The purpose of inviting the country business men to this city is another step in connecting the links that have heretofore seemed to have separated the country people from the town people, he said.

Mr. Arbuckle explained that they had not been invited here for the purpose of buying stock in some concern, but for the purpose of getting acquainted and cementing the relations between the rural business man and the town business man.

The Tailored Dress

Here are three variations of the American woman's own invention—the tailored dress. One has the side closing with a slight drape. A wide braided band is the only trimming of another which boasts of unusual sleeves lined to match the small vest. The third style is even plainer.

Hugh Archey responded for the Orange township farmers and told of the need of cooperation between the two units, and he urged a 100 percent cooperation, not only between the business men of the two places, but between the entire community, and farmers.

He urged that only by united efforts and with the spirit of "Go ahead" and "Work together", could the every day problems that face the farmers, be solved.

Mr. Archey introduced the following men from Orange township, who were guests today, Elmer Hungerford, George Gahimer, Charles Alter, Kennard Koons and John Vernon.

Committees were appointed by the club to send greetings to B. F. Miller, a club member, who is taking treatment in a hospital at Indianapolis, and whose condition is not regarded as very satisfactory. The other committee was appointed to draft resolutions out of respect of Dr. J. T. Paxton, whose wife died last week.

The club will meet next Thursday night, when the "Friendship Cup," will be brought here from Connersville. The cup stays with each club four weeks, during which time an attendance record is kept, and the club inscribes their record and then passes it on to another club, and the cup is finally retained by the club making the best score.

PHILLIPS FUNERAL

The funeral services for Mrs. Kate Phillips, who died Tuesday afternoon, will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in charge of the Rev. C. T. Parker, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church. The remains of the deceased have been removed from the residence of 113 1/2 East First street, to the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Hughes, 720 West Ninth, where the services will be held.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

A Ford coupe driven by Tom Foster living east of this city, was damaged at noon today at the alley near the postoffice, when a machine driven by Nathan Arbuckle of Homer struck it. The front left wheel on the Ford was demolished. The occupants of each car escaped without injuries.

Kokomo —Police here started a war on auto tail lights. In the general scramble to keep "the lights burning," Fred Thurston is said to have stolen a red lantern placed in the street as a danger signal, hung it on his car and left it there all night. Fred says he might as well have left the bus without light, for he had to appear in court anyway.

Economic Stability Depends Upon Education Of Masses, College Professor Says

ADDRESS TO BANKERS ASS'N

Declares That We Must Learn To See Things That Are Not Obvious To Us

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26. — The economic stability of America depends largely upon educating the masses to the proposition that remote consequences must not be overlooked in the evolution of plans of progress, William A. Scott, Director of the School of Commerce at the University of Wisconsin, said today in a speech before the general convention of the American Bankers Association. Depression following the war, he added, is attributable to the neglect of remote consequences.

"We must learn to see the things that are not obvious," continued Mr. Scott. "There probably are many reasons why we don't see and therefore neglect remote consequences. One is the very fact of their remoteness. What is present and directly before us strikes our vision, obtrudes itself upon us. We cannot neglect it if we would. One might wreck innumerable railroad trains and kill multitudes of passengers before learning to run a locomotive by simply pushing and pulling the levers and observing what happens. In this case some knowledge of the mechanism is essential to success. The same thing is true of the social machine. Endless experimentation may yield only negative results and it may be hopelessly wrecked long before we have finished finding out what to do."

"The war greatly increased the expenses of Government and made high

Tom Geraghty Starts Meighan's Next Picture

Tom Geraghty, who has been in Kennebunkport, Me., working with Booth Tarkington on the screen treatment of his story, "Pied Piper Malone," which will be Thomas Meighan's next Paramount picture, has returned to the Paramount Long Island studio to begin work on the scenario. The story is an original by Mr. Tarkington and many of the scenes will be filmed at Mr. Tarkington's summer home in Maine. Mr. Geraghty said that many of the summer residents were remaining in Kennebunkport just waiting for the picture company to come.

Mr. Meighan and his director, Alfred E. Green, with a technical staff, will arrive in New York from the coast the latter part of this month and will go immediately to Maine to film the exterior scenes for the picture.

Overworked Mothers

We all know them. Mothers who in their anxiety to keep their homes neat and attractive and their little ones as well dressed as their playmates, toil on day in and day out, sweeping, dusting, mending and cooking, often suffering from backache, pain in side, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, all symptoms of more serious ailments. Thousands of such women have found relief from such suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually being published in this paper. For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health and strength.

Roy Glenn Pyles Marching With East Coast Expeditionary Force
Through Hills of Virginia

SON OF MRS. ELLA PYLES

He is Attached to 5th Company of Engineers, Having Joined Marine Corps at Indianapolis, June 1, 1921

Washington, Sept. 26—Marching through the hills of Virginia with the East Coast Expeditionary Force of the U. S. Marine Corps, Roy Glenn Pyles, formerly of Rushville Ind., is now taking part in a series of maneuvers, which began August 27 and will not be completed until October 7, when the force returns to its base at Quantico, near here.

Many unusual features are being carried out in connection with the maneuvers, including visits to the Civil War battlefields at Waynesboro Winchester and New Market. At the latter place an historic spectacle of the battle of New Market is being presented by the Marines in conjunction with the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. Football and baseball games, moving pictures, athletic and educational features alternate between military marches and battle practice.

The Marines are following a circuitous trail to Waynesboro, in the Shenandoah Valley, and will return over a northern route by way of Winchester, the entire journey being over 300 miles. They will reach Washington about October 6, where another football game and a great military spectacle is scheduled to take place before the force returns to Quantico.

Roy is a son of Mrs. Ella Pyles of Rushville, and he joined the Marine Corps at Indianapolis, June 1, 1921. He is now attached to the 5th Company of Engineers. More than fifty Marines from Indiana are taking part in the maneuvers.

Two Days At Princess

William de Mille's latest Paramount production, "Only 38," will be seen today and Thursday at the Princess Theatre.

Mrs. Stanley (Lois Wilson), a widow of thirty-eight, whose youth was extinguished by her hide bound husband, on the latter's death decides to get as much joy out of life as possible and so encourages the attention of Prof. Giddings, played by Elliott Dexter. Her daughter, Lucy (May McAvoy) is in love with Sidney Johnson, a young college student. Instead of the emphasis being laid on the youthful love story, it is laid upon that of the mother. Her struggle for happiness is played against a background of opposition from her children. At length, yielding to the children's ideas, she renounces her youth and love. But the daughter's own love affair opens her eyes and paves the way to a happy conclusion for both.

The featured players in "Only 38" include May McAvoy, Lois Wilson, Elliott Dexter and George Fawcett. In the support are Robert Agnew, Jane Keckley, Lillian Leighton, and others. The story is full of heart interest, and there is a clever mingling of pathos and comedy throughout. The love story of a woman who feels that she is old played in contrast to the love story of her daughter, is most appealing. "Only 38" is a picture every fan can see with profit and complete enjoyment.

Virginia Lee At Mystic

"Destiny's Isle," a Wm. P. S. Earle production, with an all-star cast, including Virginia Lee, Ward Crane, Flo Billings, George Fawcett and Arthur Housman, will be seen today only at the Mystic Theatre.

The story, by Margery Land May, tells of the hurried flight of Tom Proctor (Mr. Crane), after witnessing Flo Martin (Miss Billings) in the embrace of his rival, Arthur Randall (Mr. Housman). Rendered unconscious by an accident in his flight, Tom is found in his drifting boat by Lola Whitaker (Miss Lee), a girl on a neighboring island who dresses and nurses a wound on his forehead. Later, to shield this girl from unjust suspicion when Flo and her guardian (George Fawcett) find them together on the island, Tom declares the girl his wife. Flo confesses that she permitted Arthur's caress to excite Tom's jealousy. Realizing she has lost Tom, she begins to persecute the island girl, and then schemes to discredit Tom. How Lola frustrates Flo's schemes and sacrifices her happiness to defend Tom brings the drama to a pointed and highly dramatic climax.

The production was made at Miami, Fla., where the scenes are laid. The ill-fated passenger-carrying seaplane, Miss Miami, was used and is shown in many of the scenes.

"Destiny's Isle" was written by Miss Margery Land May; its production was directed by Wm. P. S. Earle and photographed by Wm. S. Adams. J. Stuart Blackton, Jr., supervised the making of the picture. It is released by American Releasing Corporation.

BUTLER PLEDGES

famous, burning the cheapest soft coal or slack with the same regularity and cleanliness as the burning of gas, and maintaining a steady heat day and night, requiring filling morning and night only.

The Hot Blast Air Tight Florence will pay for itself in a few seasons in the Saving of Coal

For the past twenty-one years I have offered $5,000.00 (and make the same offer now until January 1st, 1924), to any stove manufacturer or dealer who would produce a heating stove of any kind that depends upon a flue for draft that will consume all the ingredients in soft or hard coal from the moment the fire is started outside the construction of the Hot Blast Air Tight Florence with a damper back of the firepot, but have never been taken up, which proves its equal is not made by any stove manufacturer.

J. B. HOWARD,

The Damper Back of the Firepot

is why the Hot Blast Air Tight FLORENCE should be used in every home that is heated with a stove.

The Damper Back of the Firepot has revolutionized combustion. It makes its own gas and burns it and makes its own coke and burns it, in the burning of the cheapest soft coal or slack.

The Damper Back of the Firepot is the means of burning the cheapest soft coal or slack with the same regularity and cleanliness as the burning of gas, and will heat three times the space at one-third the cost of any other heating stove burning coal or wood.

The Damper Back of the Firepot regulates the heat in burning coal or wood the same as a key in burning gas.

The Damper Back of the Firepot can be set to whatever degree of heat is required, maintaining a steady heat day and night, and only burns coal or wood according to the amount of heat required.

A FLOOR HEATER

The Florence heats the floor 5 or 6 feet from the stove

The Damper Back of the Firepot eliminates the soot, dust, dirt and clinkers that must be put up with in using all other heating stoves.

The Damper Back of the Firepot enables you to have a steady heat day and night, heating five or six rooms when the weather is twenty degrees below zero.

The Damper Back of the Firepot regulates a slow combustion and will hold fire from 24 hours to 4 days and 4 nights with one filling.

The Damper Back of the Firepot prevents puffing in the burning of soft coal or slack because it burns the gases that cause the explosions.

In all heating stoves depending upon the front damper to regulate the heat there is danger of puffing and explosion when the stove is replenished with fresh fuel.

When the stove gets red hot the metal expands. When it gets cold the metal contracts, which warps and burns out the stove in a few years, besides the constant expense of repairs.

THE FLORENCE STOVE WILL BE JUST AS GOOD TWENTY-FIVE YEARS FROM NOW AS IT IS TODAY

THE HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE has the only JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM AND BASE with full radiation that has ever been made, which makes it as good a fire-keeper 25 years from now. The first Florence heating stove sold in 1899 is working, wherever it is.

Do not be deceived by unscrupulous manufacturers or dealers when they say that a stove without a damper back of the firepot will do what the Florence does.

Legislators Prevented From Conven-

Jack Walton, Governor

Oklahoma, City, Okla., Sept., 26.—The Oklahoma legislators attempting to convene for the impeachment of Governor Jack Walton, were dispersed before the door of the hall of representatives today by the Oklahoma national guard.

The legislators left the capital building silently. There was no demonstration.

Court action will be initiated at once, according to Representative W. D. McBee, to establish their right to meet despite orders forbidding the session issued by Governor Walton.

The insurgent legislators had been gathering at the capital building throughout the morning preparatory to an attempt to convene in extraordinary session at noon today.

A few minutes before noon they started crowding about the locked doors to the hall of representatives. The military increased its guard to ten armed men.

Exactly at noon as the representatives prepared to step forward toward the guard, a shout from the entrance to the senate chamber directly across the lobby attracted their attention.

Col. W. S. Key of the national guard asked them to assemble about him. They did so silently, meanwhile the governor's private gunmen and detectives surrounded the crowd. Col. Key then read an order signed by Adjutant General Baird Markham, informing the representatives that the governor warned them not to attempt to convene. The conclusion of the order instructed the legislators to disperse.

The crowd melted silently. They left the capital in a body discussing the developments in low tones.

ROTARIANS TO ATTEND INTER-STATE MEETING

Delegation From Rushville Club Going To Shelbyville Thursday
Evening

BUSINESS METHODS TOPIC

A delegation of twenty-five or thirty Rotarians will go to Shelbyville Thursday evening for an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs representing Greensburg, Franklin, Shelbyville and Rushville. Judge Will M. Sparks of this city will be one of the speakers at the meeting, which will open with a dinner at the Elks club at 6:15 o'clock.

Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Indiana district governor of Rotary clubs will speak on "Business Methods" and Frank Floyd of Indianapolis, former president of the Indianapolis Rotary club and chairman of the Rotary district Riley Memorial hospital committee. Some entertainment will also be provided.

At this meeting Governor Sapp will announce the appointment of a new group representative to succeed Eugene Pulliam, who will leave Franklin October 1 to assume management of The Lebanon Reporter which he recently purchased. Mr. Pulliam will be in charge of the program at Shelbyville Thursday night.

The Shelbyville club has arranged a delightful entertainment program and the meeting is expected to be a red letter event in Group Six activities.

I. & C. Workmen Move to Gwynneville to Start Another Substation

The concrete work and foundation for the new sub-station located four miles west of Connersville on the I. & C. traction line, has been completed and the gang of workmen has moved to Gwynneville to begin construction work on a similar plant there.

The new sub-station is the first to be under construction in preparation for the change that is to be made in the current on the system, in order to make way for the new cars and equipment that is ordered for the extension to Cincinnati. Charles L. Henry, president of the traction company and Amos Baxter, superintendent, visited the new substation Tuesday.

Republican State Committee Prepares For Meeting Regardless Of McCray's Request

REFUSED BY STATE CHAIRMAN

Marion County Grand Jury Will Begin Investigation Of His Affairs Monday

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept., 26.—Republican leaders went ahead today with their plans to hold a meeting of the state committee next Monday to determine the attitude the party will take toward Governor McCray in his personal financial reverses despite the governor's request for a postponement of the meeting.

State Chairman Wall refused to delay the meeting, stating that all arrangements had been made and further delay would be out of the question. The attitude around Republican headquarters seems to be that the sooner the whole affair is given an airing the better it will be for the governor and the party.

Other factors in the tangled situation are:

The Marion county grand jury will meet Monday to investigate some of the obligations sold by McCray to banks. Requests for a grand jury probe was made by Gus Conde, representing the Marion National Bank, at Marion, Ind.

Acceptance of the trust agreement whereby McCray is seeking to turn over his property to his creditors is not being hurried by his creditors. In some quarters it is said to be doubtful whether the agreement will be approved within the prescribed 30 day period, dating from Sept. 7.

The circuit court at Kentland, McCray's home town will meet Oct. 8 to determine future action on numerous suits pending against McCray in that court.

Condo, who is pressing the grand jury investigation of McCray's affairs.

Republicans From All Over This District Gather at Newcastle Today For Conference

MCCRAY AFFAIRS GOSSIP

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 26.—Republican politicians from the sixth congressional district gathered here today for a party conference, one of a series being held throughout the state.

Gossip concerning the financial affairs of Governor McCray and the probable action of the state committee was the chief topic of conversation and the party workers, seeking to learn new inside information on the subject, flocked here in large numbers.

Clyde A. Wall, state chairman, was one of the early arrivals. He refused to discuss the McCray affair and was closeted in conference most of the morning with George Elliott, district chairman.

Senator James E. Watson, Congressman Elliott and Chairman Wall will speak at the meeting.

"THIRD TIME THE CHARM"

Grand Jury Indictment And First Amended Affidavit Found Faulty by Special Judge

Another hearing was held this morning in the circuit court in the case of the State against Capp Miller, charged with the unlawful possession of a still, and after the third attempt to make the charge stand, the case was set for trial on November 6.

The defendant was first charged with a grand jury indictment and last Saturday Judge Craig of Greensburg, special judge in the cause, sustained motions to quash the counts, and the indictment was thrown out of court.

The state in turn filed a new affidavit, and this morning the special judge was here again to hear the motions to quash the affidavit, and he again found the three counts faulty, and sustained the motion to quash.

The judge likewise granted the state leave to amend once more, and this was done, and the affidavit was held good by the court. The defendant was arraigned on the amended affidavit and pleaded not guilty, and the case set for trial November 6. A motion to quash the search warrant and to suppress the evidence obtained, is still pending.

Lester Caron, who is charged jointly with James Cranley of a charge of unlawful transportation of liquor, has filed a motion to be tried separately, and the motion was granted by the court. The defendant Caron is scheduled for trial next Monday.

Mabelle M. Sampson is plaintiff in a suit filed against Oakley Sampson of Arlington, in which she demands support money, alleging that her husband has abandoned her and is failing to provide.

In her complaint she sets out the fact that since their separation, her husband filed suit for divorce in the court here, and that on May, 19, 1923 the evidence was heard and he was refused a divorce.

Since that period, she alleges that he failed to support her, and she asks that the court compel him to pay $10 a week towards her support.

ARRANGEMENTS WILL STAND No Change To Be Made In Plan For World's Series

New York, Sept., 26.—Arrangements announced for the world's series by Commissioner Landis will stand without further amendment since the New York Giants have all but officially clinched the National League pennant.

Regardless of the fact that they have officially won the American League pennant, the club officials of the Yankees are accepting no more orders for tickets, however, until it is known positively that the Cincinnati Reds will not have a part in the world's series.

For the same reason the owners of the Giants are not selling tickets.

As announced by Commissioner Landis, the series will start in the new Yankee stadium on Wednesday, October 10th at 2 o'clock.

FRANCE WILL NOT ANSWER AT ONCE

Germany's Official Proclamation Announcing End of Resistance Will

DEVELOPMENTS ARE AWAITED

Admission by Germany That She
Has Again Been Brought to Her
Knees by France

Paris, Sept. 26.—Germany's official proclamation announcing the end of passive resistance in the Ruhr will not draw any immediate reply from France, a semi-official statement indicated today.

Premier Poincare will await three developments before even considering the German surrender, the statement said:

- 1—Official notification of the cessation of resistance.
- 2—Definite propositions from Germany.
- 3—Return to work of the German population of the occupied areas.

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berling, Sept. 26.—The end of Germany's passive resistance to Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr was proclaimed officially today.

The proclamation declared the government will not sign any agreement tearing away any portion of the nation from the Reich.

The end of resistance came after nine months. It was Germany's admission she has lost the "war after the war" and has again been brought to her knees by France.

The Reich's government now can only await the reaction in allied capitals and hope for leniency from Premier Poincare.

It was assumed copies of the proclamation with the official information that Germany has surrendered will be dispatched immediately to Paris, Brussels and London.

The Stressman government, it was indicated, will attempt to save its face by a complete but dignified admission of capitulation.

There will be no whining. The government feels the German people have fought an honorable battle and lost. They now must accept whatever consequences are in store for them.

Issuance of the proclamation today came after the cabinet's decision last Wednesday that unconditional surrender was inevitable because of the financial situation, as outlined exclusively by the United Press dispatches at that time.

Mrs. E. E. Hackleman Dies At Her Home In Anderson This Morning

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. E. E. Hackleman, wife of Dr. E. E. Hackleman, of Anderson, and a former resident of Center township, this county, which occurred suddenly this morning at five o'clock, death being caused from heart trouble. No arrangements have been made as to the time of the funeral, as word was awaited from a sister in Kansas.

Mrs. Hackleman is known in this city, having visited here on a number of occasions with her husband, who is related to the Hacklemans of this city and county. He is now a retired dentist of Anderson and is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hackleman.

REMUS IS FREED ON $2,000 BOND

Cincinnati Attorney Arrested At Shelbyville For Unlawful Transportation Of Liquor

OWNER ABANDONED MACHINE

Denies He Knew Anything About
Liquor Found In Auto In Accident
West Of Here Sept. 17

George Remus, Cincinnati attorney who was suspected of being the owner of the large booze laden machine that was abandoned near Morristown, on the road west of here, September 17, following an accident with another car, appeared Tuesday afternoon at Shelbyville to claim the machine, and was arrested on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor.

When the machine was abandoned it contained 80 gallons of Canadian liquor, and authorities traced several clues which pointed to the fact that Remus owned the car. Remus is styled "King of Bootleggers" by authorities of many cities. In commenting upon the matter, the Shelbyville Democrat relates the following:

A plea of not guilty to the charge was entered by Remus in police court Tuesday afternoon. Bond in the case was fixed at $2,000, which Remus was unable to provide at the time. He argued that a bond of $1,000 was sufficient in the case, but Mayor Lee B. Hoop refused to reduce the amount. Remus retained ex-Judge Alonzo Blair for the defense and later issued a check for $2,000 and left his Marmon roadster, which he drove here, as security for the check.

Remus denied that he was an occupant of the automobile that was abandoned with the supply of liquor on the road east of Morristown. The accident occurred when the booze car crashed into the automobile owned and driven by Fred Cox, of Morristown. The two men in the liquor car left the place and the next morning were said to have boarded an interurban car for Indianapolis.

According to Remus, the Marmon touring car, which was being used in transporting liquor, was the property of his wife and was stolen from the parking place in Cincinnati, O., where she had left the machine. He had no knowledge of the car being used in transporting liquor, he informed Prosecutor Mc-

Indian and Family Take Up Abode at Tourists Camp

Long Eagle, a real-for-sure American Indian, together with his family, has taken up abode in Memorial park, and Mr. Eagle is employed as a teamster for the Reynolds Manufacturing Company.

The Indians came here this week from northern Michigan, and so far they have been unable to secure a house. The next best thing was to pitch camp on the free tourist grounds in the park, and they will remain there until a vacant house can be secured. The family consists of four children, one of whom entered the city schools here Tuesday.

LOCAL LODGEMEN TO BOOST TRABUE

Feel Confident Of Electing Rushville
Man As Grand Outer Guard Of
Knights Of Pythias

DEFEATED BY 1 VOTE IN 1922

Members Of Rushville And Milroy
Lodges Will Attend Grand Lodge
Meeting Next Week

Knights of Pythias, representing the two lodges in Rush county, located at Milroy and this city, are preparing to attend the Grand Lodge meeting of the order at Indianapolis, October 1 to 5, and boost the candidacy of Samuel L. Trabue of this city, who seeks the office of Grand Outer Guard.

Mr. Trabue was in the field last year, and lost the office by only one vote, and it is believed that he has a fine chance of being elected this year. His only opposition is Othiel Hitch of Indianapolis, and the local man has been making a big campaign for the office throughout the state in order to overcome any opposition.

A one day session of the Uniform Rank, the military division of the order, will open the convention Monday, October 1. The fifty-fifth annual state meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held October 2 and 3. The convention of the Pythian Sisters will be held October 4 and 5.

More than 2,000 delegates are expected to attend the five-day convention. They will represent 464 subordinate Pythian lodges and 400 Pythian Sister Temples.

Memorial services for the 853 members of the organization who have died within the last year and special services for two past grand chancellors, George W. Powell, Indianapolis, and William P. Hart, Huntington, will be held October 2 at 11 o'clock. William L. Heiskell, Indianapolis, a past grand chancellor will make the memorial address.

George C. Cabel, Norfolk, Va., supreme chancellor, will speak Tuesday. The election of officers will be held the same day. In many instances the election will be a ritualistic rotation and in other cases there are more than one candidate for office. Ralph W. Gaylor, Mishawaka, is the present grand chancellor. Automatically he will become a past grand chancellor, and Elmer Bassett, of Shelbyville, will succeed him. Mr. Bassett is the grand vice-chancellor at the present time. Dore B. CONCERT TO MARK CLOSING OF PARK

at Coliseum Sunday Afternoon
Under A. P. Wagoner's Direction

EQUIPMENT TO BE STORED

The Community orchestra, under the leadership of A. P. Wagoner held the regular weekly practice Tuesday night in the coliseum at Memorial park, in preparation for the concert that they will give Sunday afternoon in the coliseum.

The concert Sunday will mark the close of the park for the present season, and a large turnout is expected. The concert is to be free, and the musicians are deserving of a large crowd.

The playground equipment will be removed next week, and stored for the winter, and Eli Hardwick, custodian of the park, will retire for the present season.

It is believed that the closing event for the park will be a big feature, and it is being planned to have Sunday concerts at frequent intervals next summer, in order to afford people some place to go on Sunday afternoons, instead of seeking other parks and diversions, away from home. The program for the concert will be announced later.

LABOR TO BOOST GOVERNOR SMITH

Friends Preparing Demonstration For Him When American Federation Of Labor Meets

TO SEE HOW WEST REACTS

Governor Of New York Would Have Excellent Chance Of Presidential Election, Labor Thinks

By LAWRENCE MARTIN (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept., 26. — Gov. Al Smith of New York will be given a great boost for the Presidency by his friends among organized labor when the American Federation of Labor convention meets in Portland, Ore., in October, according to well laid plans.

Some of Smith's enthusiastic friends — and he has great hosts of them among labor — are preparing to create a demonstration for him in the convention. This, report has it, is to be staged during a discussion of labor's political activities in the 1924 campaign.

At the last A. F. of L. convention in Cincinnati Senator La Follette was given a sort of semi-official endorsement for President — an endorsement that did not bind organized labor, as such, or any individual member to get behind La Follette. It was just one of those "whoop-hurrah" endorsements that was perfectly natural for a labor assemblage to give, because La Follette is undeniably a friend of labor. He was for a long time the only man in Congress who spoke a word for organized workers. He did not forget the city workers even when the great clamor in Congress centered about the plight of the farmer.

Labor is for La Follette, and if he were a candidate he would poll a heavy labor vote. But labor is pretty hard-headed about some things, and clearheaded, too. There is a strong feeling among the A. F. of L. that La Follette could not be elected, and that labor support for him might simply result in letting some one less friendly to the workers get into the Presidency.

Al Smith, many labor leaders think would have an excellent chance of election if nominated by the Democratic Convention. They believe the Portland convention would be a good chance to see how the West reacts to Smith. They have heard that he would be beaten west of the Mississippi River. Their plan is to test sentiment for him out there.

Labor claims Smith's election as Governor, the last time was the direct result of the workers' activities. He is one of the men labor claims to have elected.

There will be no attempt labor leaders says, to put the Portland convention formally on record as favoring any candidate for the Presidency. The Smith demonstration will be entirely unofficial and will be simply a "trial balloon."

MUCH PAVING BY COMMISSION

Summer and Fall Rains Delayed Program of Paving in Indiana, J. M. Williams Says

156 MILES THIS YEAR

Commission Plans to Make 400 Miles of Hard Surfaced Roads a Standard For Each Year

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 26—Approximately 156 miles of hard-surfaced roads will have been laid by the state highway commission by the time winter stops construction work, John N. Williams, director of the commission, said today.

The unusual amount of rain which has fallen in Indiana this year has delayed the road building program seriously, he said.

For the future, the commission contemplates a program of 400 miles a year, Williams said. The state is rapidly linking the more important towns and cities throughout the state with concrete or other hard surfaced roads.

Perhaps one of the most important achievements of the commission this year was finishing the final stretches of the National road between Richmond, Indianapolis and Terre Haute. It is now possible for a resident of Terre Haute to drive his car to Washington, D. C., without driving on any but paved roads.

The day of impassable roads, bottomless chuck-holes and shaky bridges will soon be almost forgotten at the rate the highway commission is forging the links in the chain of intra-state communication.

For the month of August, approximately $1,000,000 was expended for the construction of 32,276 miles of roads, including the coat of cement, Williams said. The payroll for draftsmen, field engineers and inspectors totaled $29,595.62 for the same period. Bridges under construction in August totaled 66.

MAY NOT REDUCE FEDERAL TAXES

Responsibility For Tax Burden to be Laid at Door of State, County
And Municipal Authorities

TO STRESS LOCAL TAXATION

Federal Government Imposes Far Less in Proportion to Total Taxation Than Local Gov'ts

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1923)

Washington, Sept. 26—Foreseeing inability to reduce federal taxation at the coming session of congress, the Coolidge administration is fortifying itself with a defense and a reason.

Responsibility for the weight of the tax burden will be laid at the door of state, county and municipal authorities. The federal government, the country will be told, imposes far less in proportion to the total taxation and to the services required of it, than local governments.

Taking a leaf out of Mr. Harding's book, President Coolidge intends to stress the matter of local taxation. It may come up at his forthcoming conference with the governors.

Figures compiled by the census bureau will be used to show how tremendous the tax spending of the local governments has increased during a period when the federal government in response to clamor, was doing its utmost to keep expenditures down.

Some high administration officials expect it will be possible to reduce federal taxes. They point to a handsome treasury surplus, increased revenues, due in a measure to prosperous conditions and to continuation of the government's economy program. But with a bonus bill almost certain to be passed and with new needs for next year, many other officials do not see how any appreciable tax cut can come.

Even if taxes are reduced, the country will be told that real relief from taxation within the next few years must come, if at all, through reduction of local levies.

The census bureau figures show startling increases in state, county and municipal expenditures in the last decade. In some places there has been a veritable orgy of tax spending. At the same time federal taxes were soaring because of the war and they have not and will not come down to peace time levels for many years, if ever.

AT DOORS OF HALL

was made by either side, when the climax of Governor Walton's fight on the Ku Klux Klan was reached. Opposition to his use of the military in his battle against the Klan caused agitation for his impeachment among the legislators.

It was apparent the governor's order that the crowd disperse, had been anticipated by the representatives and they had plans for further action prepared.

With a final flourish of military strength, Walton redoubled the guard around the state capitol with the legislators planned to march on it at noon; placed additional troops at strategic points throughout the city and ordered the police department to "disperse any crowds which might tend to 'inflamm' the citizens.

The governor was confident there wouldn't be any blood-shed.

"I could run them all into the river with a toy gun," he said.

Members of the legislature who answered the call for the special session began gathering at Skirvin Hotel early in the day in preparation for their attempt to storm the capitol. Apparently there was considerable confusion in the ranks of the legislators who on the surface at least were without a plan of procedure. A caucus scheduled for last night was not held. However, leaders indicated they had a program mapped out which they believed would mean success in their movement but they did not desire to show their hand before the hour set for the showdown.

The governor's camp was elated by the action of the federal administration in refusing to permit use of the government building for the proposed meeting of the legislature.

Governor Walton received a telegram from Bascom C. Slem, secretary to President Coolidge late last night informing him that the federal building could not be used for other than federal purposes. The message was in reply to a telegram sent by the governor to President Coolidge, advising him that the legislature might attempt to meet on United States government property and balk the militia in its attempt to prevent the gathering.

A message was also received from Washington by the custodian of the building informing him to prevent any unauthorized use of the quarters.

With more than 300 armed guardsmen patrolling the streets; a battery of French 75's on duty; machine guns commanding all strategic points and a score of famous law enforcement officers headed by "Buck" Garrett backing him up, the Governor believed he was master of the situation. Walton declared 30,000 volunteers were ready to "spring to arms" if necessary to help him in his fight.

Assembly of more than two persons near the capitol was forbidden. All civilians were warned by newspapers to keep away from the vicinity of the capitol.

State house employees were on a one day's vacation on orders of the governor.

Only one entrance to the capitol was unlocked and a heavy guard of troops blocked the way to that door.

Persons reaching the capitol grounds were forced to carry special passes.

"Ringside" seats were erected for newspapermen with the one definite understanding and restriction—that of remaining still.

U. S. Government Neutral

Washington, Sept. 26.—President Coolidge has directed that federal officials in Oklahoma maintain the strictest neutrality in any struggle that may occur between Governor Walton and state, legislative or other authorities.

The president, it was stated at the White House, is determined that the federal government shall not be dragged into the Oklahoma trouble by either side, unless conditions make it necessary for the government to step in to prevent great loss of life or a condition of lawlessness.

Emphatic orders not to permit use of the federal building in Oklahoma City or any other place in Oklahoma as an assembly hall for the state legislature called to meet today to investigate charges against Governor Walton were telegraphed last night to custodians of all federal buildings in the state by Bascom Slem, the president's secretary.

Threat of Klan Officials

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 26.—"If one drop of klansmen's blood is spilled in Oklahoma today, Governor Jack Walton of the state, will be hanged before sunset. The Klan in Oklahoma has done no harm; it has been law abiding, but we fear for the possibilities of today when the legislature meets in extra session there."

This statement was made by Dr. J. S. Hawkins, Atlanta Ga., in addressing 400 members of Wilmington's provisional Klan today. Hawkins is a Klan official who has been organizing the order in Delaware.

fairs, said witnesses would be ready to testify Monday. He is preparing a list of witnesses to send to Prosecutor William P. Evans.

"I will consider it time to act when Condo sends his list of witnesses," Judge James A. Collins, of criminal court, said today.

"The grand jury probe will start

when we are shown that the citizens, not the politicians of the state want the governor's actions investigated.

Prosecutor Evans said he had replied to Condo's request for a grand jury investigation and told him the grand jury would be at his services on October 1. Since that, he has not heard from Condo, Evans said.

Since Evans is a son-in-law of the governor, he is not preparing to handle the case and Judge Collins is expected to appoint a special prosecutor to conduct the investigation.

Neither Governor McCray nor his attorney, James W. Noel, are opposing the investigation. Both said they believed the probe would offer a good opportunity to clear the atmosphere and to nail rumors that have been current since the governor first announced his financial predicament.

Why?

WHY waste time in useless "shopping around" when the advertisements lay before you the choicest wares of every progressive merchant in town?

Why use needless effort in an endless store-to-store quest when the advertisements enable you to make your choice of the finest merchandise without even leaving your home?

Why pay more than you ought when you can stretch your dollar to the elastic limit by taking advantage of the bargains and good buys that are daily advertised in this paper?

Why risk dissatisfaction by buying unknown, unbranded goods when you can assure yourself complete satisfaction by buying an advertised product, backed by the integrity of a man who spends real money to establish his name and to build up public good-will?

Read the advertisements. Buy advertised wares. It is a safe and sound policy

Trade Builds Cities

If merchants and their helpers
were not a pretty good natured class
of people, whose rough edges have
been worn away by much contact
with their home folks, they would have reason to get irritated at times.

There are some people who will send off or go to distant cities and
make important purchases of clothing and house furnishings. Then
when they find that they want some little trifling article in a hurry, they
will rush down to the home store
and demand that it be supplied them
instantly, and blame the store if it does not have precisely what they want. They expect these stores to keep stocked up all the time on a wide variety of goods, yet they will not help supply the all around purchasing which is the only basis for keeping such a general stock.

It is a tremendous convenience and
advantage to have a fine group of retail stores in town. Such establishments connect a community with
sources of supply that deal all over the world. A good store supplies the comforts and essentials of civilization, and it is a wonderful benefit to have it, close by where you can call on its service at any moment, and
get its supplies and its advice.

But people can not expect to have
the kind of stores their community is entitled to on the basis of its population and wealth, if they are constantly running off to other places
to buy goods. Unless they give their patronage to their home stores,
the home stores can not serve them
efficiently.

It is well to remember that the
home stores and the men who own

Cross Road Signs

Cross road signs are becoming common in many sections of the country. They cost little, and yet are of great value to the motorist or other person traveling through the country.

A few years ago there were practically no such signs in our American communities or rural districts.

When our soldiers went to France they were amazed at the ease with which they could find any city or town merely by reading the signs posted at every cross or fork in a road and following the directions thereon.

On their return home the boys commenced to talk of these signs and their advantages, and of the disadvantage of having none of our own.

Then the newspapers took it up, and the people got busy, but now we have signboards everywhere.

The automobile has done much toward bringing these signs into general use, but it is the service man who has spurred the public on to decorating the rural districts with them.

Are there any corner or cross roads unmarked in this country? If so, why are we still out of date?

would be forever solved if his freight rates were reduced. None of these "Voices of the People" ever
raises his voice without alluding to
this stumbling block in the road to
prosperity of the farmer.

Looking up the old files of the Courier, the market reports showed that on June 30, 1922, cash wheat in Chicago brought $1.15, and on the same date this year it sold for $1.05.
The freight rate had not been changed during that period, and the fluctuation during that year was
greater than even the wildest eyed
demagogue proposes to cut freight rates. In other words, if freight rates
had been cut in two this summer, the
farmer of Illinois having wheat to sell would still get less for this product than he would have a year ago.

Then there is corn. What would you say the effect of freight rates
was on that product? On June 30,
1922, cash corn sold in Chicago at
63 cents. A year later the quotation was 81 cents. During the year, with freight charges remaining the same,
wheat declined 10 cents a bushel in
price, and corn improved 19 cents.
If the decline in wheat price is due to the freight rate, why not also
grant that the gain in corn is chargeable to the same influence?
How can a freight rate work in opposite directions at the same time?

Yet the politicians are riding into
office on a whoop and hurrah campaign in which the farmer is to get relief from the oppression of the railroads. Boy, the railroads may be guilty of all the mean things said
about them, but the real nigger in the
woodpile is something entirely different. Crueltying the railroads or shooting them at sunrise or turning
them over to the government for operation will not alter the fact that wheat went down 10 to 15 cents a bushel in a year and corn went up
approximately 20 to 25 cents in the same time, and under precisely the same transportation conditions.

ADVANCING years should not
mean the approach of a period
of dependency—of crutches and canes
—of worry, care and fatigue!

Don't dread the days ahead! Be prepared to grapple with the bench-men of Old Age—with rheumatism—with undermined health—with feebleness. The system that is free from impurities—through which rich red blood tingles need not worry about advancing years. Enlist the aid of S. S. S.—the builder of red blood cells—to fight off the infirmities of Old Age.

With the aid of S. S. S. when you reach this stage of life the nerve power that has been built up by over-increasing blood cells—the vim and vigor of youth that you possess will capably enable you to enjoy the advantages of passing years, while others less fortunate are feeble and dependent.

S. S. S. for nearly a century has been serving as a valuable and time honored assistant in the fight for hale and hearty Old Age. It is made only of pure vegetable ingredients and is sold at all good drug stores.
The large size bottle is the

FIRST GAME SUNDAY

Athletic Club Football Team Will Take on South Paw A. C. of indianapolis in Opener

LINE-UPS ARE ANNOUNCED

The Arlington Athletic Club football team will open their football season Sunday with the South Paw
A. C. Club of Indianapolis as opponents. This team played under the name of the Marion Ramblers last year and played the opening game with Arlington, which resulted in a tie, 7-7. Sunday's game should be as close as last year.

The South Paws have in their lineup Williams, capt. and QB, Stewart C. Bair, RB, McClintock RT, Crazier LT, Neaves RE, Smithers LE, Mathers and Anders at halves and Dempsy at full and Patton LG. The Arlington team will probably line up as follows: T. Wilcoxen center, Updike and Olson guards, Rohm and Keap Tackles, Wilson and Winslow ends, Woodruff or K. Wilcoxen QB, Trishman and Northman halves, and Wicker full, with Headlee, Wilson,
K. Wilcoxen and Overman in reserve.

The schedule so far announced,
after Sunday's game is as follows:
Oct. 7, Cumberland A. C. at Arlington; Oct. 14, Greenwood American League at Arlington; Oct. 21, at Casper; Oct. 28 at Linden; Nov. 4, Wilkinson at Arlington.

The Score Board

Irish Mensel drove in the run in the third inning that gave the Giants a 3 to 2 victory over the Reds and increased their lead to four full games.

Ty Cobb, batting as pinch hitter, started a rally in the ninth inning that netted three runs and the Tigers won from the Yanks 5 to 4.

Bel, a Robbie short stop, drove in two runs and helped the Cards defeat the Robins 4 to 1.

Four pitchers failed to stop the Pirates and the Phils went down 18 to 5.

Good pitching by Harris, Rommel and Meeker gave the Athletics a double victory over the Indians at 6 to 5 and 5 to 1.

Timely hitting off Leverette and Blankenship enabled the Senators to beat the White Sox 5 to 2.

Ten hits by the Browns caused the defeat of the Red Sox 8 to 2.

The Cubs were stopped by Jess Barnes and the Braves won 2 to 0.

TO BE HELD AT COLUMBUS

Horse Thief Detective Association
Here to be Represented

The National Horse Thief Detective Association will hold its 63rd annual convention at Columbus, Ind., Oct. 4 and 5, and that city is preparing to care for from 250 to 350 delegates. The arrangements committee of the Chamber of Commerce is taking care of the housing problem during the convention, as the hotels have a limit of accommodation to 150 delegates. Many members, other than delegates, are also expected to be in attendance at the meeting.

Will M. McMillin is the delegate from the local branch of the association and Frank Sample is the alternate. It is expected that other members of the association in the county will be in attendance.

WALTON PUTS OUT PAPER

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 26.—"The Record" official organ established by Governor J. C. Walton to publish news of his fight with the K. K. K. appeared here Tuesday. Albridge Blake, executive counselor to the governor, is editor. The first edition, a four page, seven column folder, will be scattered broadcast throughout the state. It carried extracts from testimony obtained by the military investigating committee.

LEVEE HEARING HELD

Princeton, Sept. 26.—Representatives of the war department were here today to hold a hearing on the petition for permission to construct the proposed Wabash-Putoka levee. Hearings on the proposed levee have already been held in the Gibson county circuit court. If the federal authorities give their approval to the project, the local hearings will be resumed in October.

Won Place in Public's Heart

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 26.—Jack Dempsey once remarked during a general discussion of his business that the life of a heavyweight champion was anything but rosy, because he could have so few friends upon whom he could depend.

"The tough thing about this business is that you have to lose to find out who are really your friends," Dempsey said. "This real test comes when you are defeated and you call the roll of alleged friends and find out how many of them have not gone to the winner's dressing room."

The champion's theory was proved at least partially during his fight with Luis Firpo. He didn't lose, of course, but came nearer to defeat than any fighter could and escape with a victory.

Dempsey had to be knocked clear out of the ring, punched to his knees twice and pounded all over the ring to attain the position as a real popular champion.

Perhaps the most pleasing experience Dempsey brought out of that hectic evening came when he heard the park yelling wildly: "Come on, Jack!" as he was pulling himself into the ring and when he realized that at least he had some big part of the public back of him.

Sitting in the front row of the ringside seats, back of the press pit, was a boxing manager, who had been Dempsey's most bitter critic, a man who had gone out of his way to express his bitter contempt of the champion as a personality and a fighter. He said when he came to the ringside before the fight that he had paid his way into a fight for the first time in his life in the hope that he could see Dempsey "knocked dead."

When Dempsey was knocked out of the ring down into the lap of a sport writer, when he pulled himself gamely back into the ring and when he stood almost helpless against the ropes under one round of being knocked out, this fight manager, who had come to see him "knocked dead," was the loudest among those who were shouting in a frenzy: "Come on, Jack; come on!"

After the fight this same manager remarked that he was for Dempsey. "That fellow is a great fighter. I don't believe there ever was a greater fighter. He's gone and he's got a heart as big as a mountain. I was wrong about his fighting ability and it stands to reason that I may have been just as wrong about him in other things," he said.

REMUS IS FREED
ON $2,000 BOND

Mr. Remus said he had been informed by J. L. Mount and Mr. Richards, federal prohibition agents stationed at Toledo, O., and attached to the Washington, D. C., office, that they had investigated the finding of the automobile and liquor near Morristown and said they had told him that they were convinced the automobile had been stolen. Remus said that their statement induced him to come here today to claim the automobile. According to Sheriff J. J. Smith, the investigation of the case has been in charge of W. H. Holman, federal prohibition agent.

Remus was questioned by the authorities and said that he had been a criminal lawyer in Cincinnati, O., all his life until he became engaged in his present business, which he said was the "whiskey business." He admitted that he had been arrested and convicted in the Ohio federal court on a charge of violating the federal prohibition law. He was fined $10,000 and sentenced to one year in the federal prison, he admitted, but had taken the case to the U. S. court of appeals, where it is now pending, he said.

Reports that Remus is worth possibly a million dollars were referred to Remus when he asserted he could not raise the $2,000 amount of the bond fixed. He stated that the Cincinnati banks are closed early in the afternoon and that it would be impossible to secure the amount on the moment's notice.

elect to the office of grand vice-chancellor.

Louis B. Elmore, Monticello, will become grand master at arms. He is now grand inner guard. Dolph E. Farr, Edinburg, is the present grand outer guard and at the election will become grand inner guard. Nathan J. Lane, Burlington, is grand master at arms and will be elected to the post of grand prelate.

Carl R. Mitchell, Indianapolis, will be reelected grand keeper of the records and seal. His will be the only reelection. Henry Krammerer, Logansport, and William A. Morris, Frankfort, are the two candidates for the office of grand master of the exchequer. Mr. Morris holds that office now. There are the only ritualistic offices.

Three of the four candidates for supreme representative to the Supreme Lodge convention to be held in Toronto, Canada, August, 1924, will be chosen at the impending election. The four candidates are: Thomas L. Neal, Indianapolis; Harvey M. Thompson, Indianapolis; F. A. Priest, Marion, and Frank Bowers, Indianapolis.

TO THE MAN-

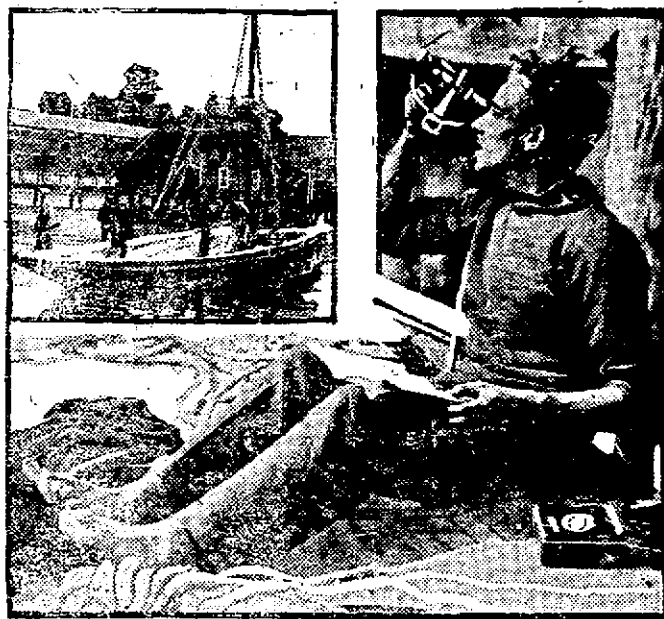

Who knows a good thing when he sees it,
Who is the "live wire" business man in his locality,
Who has both feet on the ground and can see into the future, his opportunity to grow bigger—To this man this message is dedicated.

We are one of the oldest and largest automobile concerns in the country. Our financial resources are second to none. We will announce about October 4th, a new 6 cylinder automobile, representing the utmost mechanical superiority and engineering principles. The production on this new model will run in excess to 150,000 cars.

Think of a Light 6 that will sell from $750.00 to $775.00 f. o. b. or closed models that will sell from $900.00 to $1095.00 f. o. b. Think what this means to YOU? To the man with the above qualifications it means his opportunity, not only to make money, but an opportunity to see his business grow and expand into the largest in his community.

More information may be had by addressing a letter to Box 557, Indianapolis, Indiana.

BIG TEN BRIEFS

Chicago—Problems of developing an attack for the Michigan Aggies game, here Saturday, occupied the time of the University of Chicago football squad as Coach Stagg drove his men through a long session of line charging plays. Chicago is expected to use line smashes almost exclusively against the Aggies.

Urbana, Ill.—Scrimmage was again given to the Illinois gridlers yesterday. Coach Zuppke declared that no formations had been exchanged with Coach Fred Dawson of Nebraska and that the game would be played in the same fashion as any other. The Illinois mentor will have his team try out air currents in the new stadium on Saturday.

Evanston, Ill.—That the aerial attack will not be overlooked by Northwestern this year was shown when Coach Thistlethwaite drilled his men for over an hour on hurling and receiving passes. The linemen were given instructions on defensive work by E. A. Mauer, wrestling instructor at the university.

Lafayette—Coach Pichan is working out two freshmen squads against the varsity in hard daily scrimmages. The Boilermakers are giving a lot of attention to offensive tactics. Bloomington—Under a new policy adopted by the Indiana University coaches, the freshmen will be used against the varsity only once a week. Coach Gardner is trying out his varsity backs in all kinds of formations to see what plays they can put over best.

FRANCE WILL NOT
ANSWER AT ONCE

With resistance costing upwards of $5,000,000 a week and the mark so valueless that quotations on it had been dropped by many banks, the government had no other choice but surrender.

The cabinet last night completed the financial draft of the proclamation, which was given to the world today.

The population seemed to take the first news of defeat apathetically. Schooled to obey, the people accepted the loss of the post-war fight against France as merely another chapter in the sequence of events which has carried Germany from her proud position of 1914 to her present place as the "sickest country of Europe."

As resistance ceased, reports from the Ruhr were not encouraging. Nine months of fighting without arms has demoralized the once hard-working people of the great industrial region.

Proof of this state, the government admitted is to be found on every corner in the Ruhr territory. The administration's liberal hand which poured money lavishly into the Ruhr has turned many of the workers into parasites.

The Ruhr has lost its sense of morals.

Not only the needy and deserving received handsome doles from the treasury of the Reich but business men of greater or lesser wealth literally have waxed fat off the nation's generosity.

Finance Minister Hilferding said: "Almost the entire population of the occupied territories was supported through national funds. The people now must comprehend with what great expense means.

"And the matter did not end with mere expense of supporting the population. We were forced to provide in ever-increasing measure actual capital for the territory.

"There were no markets and no sales. Factories only worked to fill up their supplies and occupy employees in some manner without really creating any wealth.

"Workers had no income and demand that wages and other costs be borne by the government. Even lawyers, doctors and artists claimed their share of governmental support."

The West Phalian People's paper, confirming the minister's statements said:

"The lack of conscience and morality grew so rapidly after the Ruhr invasion that soon everybody knew how to get large sums without effort. Anyone who did not understand how to fill his pockets was regarded as an ass.

"If the documents showing the pretexts for demanding help were opened, the people would be disgusted at the revelations.

The regular meeting of the Delphian Society will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Elks club rooms.

Miss Grace Buell will be hostess to the members of the Thursday Afternoon Card club Thursday afternoon at her home east of the city.

The King's Heralds of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will meet Thursday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of the Misses Irene and Marie Gardner, 527 North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gessler and children Merle and Frances Marie have returned to their home in this mity after attending the celebration of Mrs. Mollie's Shaw's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Shaw is the mother of Mrs. Gessler.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dill and Mrs. Sarah Gullin entertained with a dinner party Tuesday evening at their home in North Morgan street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller, of this city, and Dora Belker, of Los Angeles, California.

Miss Anna Mary, Cowan delightedly entertained the members of the Ladies Aid Society of the First United Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at her home in West Fourth street. An informal, afternoon was enjoyed with needlework and a short business meeting was held, during which matters pertaining to the society were discussed.

Mrs. Frances Howell was hostess to the members of the Always Present Class of the Main Street Christian church Tuesday evening at her home, corner of Julian and Second streets. No business of importance was transacted at this time and those present enjoyed an informal evening. Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vickery entertained Sunday the following guests in honor of Mrs. Minnie Rhodes Cherry, of Seattle, Washington: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. Plessinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ellison and children of Shelbyville, Mr. and Mrs. Rue Miller of Manilla, Mr. and Mrs. Rue Mull, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lord and son Francis of Mays, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf, son Ray and daughter Esther of Greentield. There will be a homecoming of all friends of Mrs. Cherry Sunday, September 30, at No. 1 school house, Union township, Shelby county. All friends are invited to come and participate in the pitch-in dinner.

Rushville ladies who look forward each Autumn to the return of Miss Margaret Donnan and her delightful lectures in literature, will be glad to know that Saturday October 20 is the opening date of this class.

Miss Donnan has just returned to her home in Indianapolis after a four months stay in Europe and those who have followed her interesting letters to the Indianapolis Sunday Star will want to hear more of her experiences, her literary pilgrimages, the latest English book shop news and gossip. Miss Donnan has chosen for her special subject this season some famous English essayists such as Bacon, Hazlitt, Lamb, Macaulay, Matthew Arnold, and Stevenson. Her hearers may be assured that she will bring something new to the spirit and flavor of these old favorites. Miss Donnan will also keep to her delightful fashion of preceeding her formal subject with discussions of the best new novels, poetry, biography and plays, a feature which offers much variety and the advantage to busy people of knowing at once about books which have only just begun to be talked about, and about people who are the subject of criticism or approbation among litterateurs.

Miss Donnan's class is one of the cultural influences in the community and it is gratifying to know that the membership increases year by year. New members are always welcome.

Mrs. Earl Osborne entertained the Tuesday evening bridge club last evening at her home on West Fifth street, and three tables of bridge were in session. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the party.

Mrs. John G. Miller and Mrs. M. M. Coyne entertained with a six o'clock dinner party Sunday at the home of the former in West Tenth street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Coyne and daughter Rosemary of Indianapolis, Miss Helen Dwyer of London, O., Miss Frances Morris of Dayton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Coyne and Mr. and Mrs. Miller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosburg entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of the former's twenty-third birthday. The table was centered with fall flowers and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mosburg and granddaughter Marjory, Louise Berry of Andersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Will Young and children, of Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mosburg and son Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walker and son Merle of Indianapolis.

The descendants of Francis and Nancy E. Gray of Rush county held their first family reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gray near Charlottesville. This family numbers twenty-seven persons, including the two sons, one daughter, eight grandchildren, nine great grand children, all of whom were present except one great grand child the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Johnson, who was visiting relatives elsewhere.

A bountiful dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour and the afternoon was spent in social conversation. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Manford Johnson, near Milroy, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Johnson and family of near New Salem, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones and family of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and daughter of Greentield, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gray of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray of Charlottesville, Joseph Todd, near Carthage, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Publisher Of Local Weekly Newspaper Sues Three Subscribers

James E. Naden, publisher of a local weekly newspaper, is plaintiff in three suits on accounts filed in Steele's court against alleged delinquent subscribers. He demands $12 judgment from Henry L. Wills, maintaining that his subscription is in arrears from June 2, 1921 to June 2, 1922; from John Hammer the plaintiff demands $5.00 judgment for the paper from August 12, 1918 to November 20, 1922, and from John Tribby the demand is for $20.46 for delinquent advertising and subscription account.

The court has set the cases for trial with the Wills case set for October 3, the Hammer case on October 4, and the Tribby case on October 5.

to the farmers, or to the community. Mr. Arbuckle stated that last year at the International convention of the Kiwanis clubs that every club pledged to do work in uplifting and helping the underprivileged children, and he called attention to the fact that the clubs in this state had subscribed $150,000 toward the Riley Memorial hospital, which is being built for the purpose of taking care of sick and children that need medical attention.

Mr. Arbuckle said that the local club long ago instituted the plan in this county of going into the community and being entertained by church organizations, and that they had derived much good from the community sessions. The purpose of inviting the country business men to this city is another step in connecting the links that have heretofore seemed to have separated the country people from the town people, he said.

Mr. Arbuckle explained that they had not been invited here for the purpose of buying stock in some concern, but for the purpose of getting acquainted and cementing the relations between the rural business man and the town business man.

Here are three variations of the American woman's own invention—the tailored dress. One has the side closing with a slight drape. A wide braided band is the only trimming of another which boasts of unusual sleeves lined to match the small vest. The third style is even plainer.

Hugh Archey responded for the Orange township farmers and told of the need of cooperation between the two units, and he urged a 100 percent cooperation, not only between the business men of the two places, but between the entire community and farmers.

He urged that only by united efforts and with the spirit of "Go ahead" and "Work together", could the every day problems that face the farmers, be solved.

Mr. Archey introduced the following men from Orange township, who were guests today, Elmer Hungerford, George Gahmer, Charles Alter, Kennard Moore and John Vernon.

Committees were appointed by the club to send greetings to B. F. Miller, a club member, who is taking treatment in a hospital at Indianapolis, and whose condition is not regarded as very satisfactory. The other committee was appointed to draft resolutions out of respect of Dr. J. T. Paxton, whose wife died last week.

The club will meet next Thursday night, when the "Friendship Cup," will be brought here from Cornersville. The cup stays with each club four weeks, during which time an attendance record is kept, and the club inscribes their record and then passes it on to another club, and the cup is finally retained by the club making the best score.

PHILLIPS FUNERAL

The funeral services for Mrs. Kate Phillips, who died Tuesday afternoon, will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in charge of the Rev. C. T. Parker, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church. The remains of the deceased have been removed from the residence of 113 1/2 East First street, to the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Hughes, 720 West Ninth, where the services will be held.

A Ford coupe driven by Tom Foster living east of this city, was damaged at noon today at the alley near the postoffice, when a machine driven by Nathan Arbuckle of Homer struck it. The front left wheel on the Ford was demolished. The occupants of each car escaped without injuries.

Kokomo —Police here started a war on auto tail lights. In the general scramble to keep "the lights burning," Fred Thurston is said to have stolen a red lantern placed in the street as a danger signal, hung it on his car and left it there all night. "Fred says he might as well have left the bus without light, for he had to appear in court anyway."

Economic Stability Depends Upon Education Of Masses, College Professor Says

ADDRESS TO BANKERS ASS'N

Declares That We Must Learn To See Things That Are Not Obvious To Us

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26. — The economic stability of America depends largely upon educating the masses to the proposition that remote consequences must not be overlooked in the evolution of plans of progress, William A. Scott, Director of the School of Commerce at the University of Wisconsin, said today in a speech before the general convention of the American Bankers Association. Depression following the war, he added, is attributable to the neglect of remote consequences.

"We must learn to see the things that are not obvious," continued Mr. Scott. "There probably are many reasons why we don't see and therefore neglect remote consequences. One is the very fact of their remoteness. What is present and directly before us strikes our vision, obtrudes itself upon us. We cannot neglect it if we would. One might wreck innumerable railroad trains and kill multitudes of passengers before learning to run a locomotive by simply pushing and pulling the levers and observing what happens. In this case sound knowledge of the mechanism is essential to success. The same thing is true of the social machine. Fanciful experimentation may yield only negative results and it may be hopelessly wrecked long before we have finished finding out what to do.

"The war greatly increased the expenses of Government and made high

DO YOU WONDER?

Asks This Lady, "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Oswatonic, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while, and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell."

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicine, and everything had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day they came to be a Ladies' Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui."

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

Tom Geraghty Starts McElghan's Next Picture

Tom Geraghty, who has been in Kennebunkport, Me., working with Booth Tarkington on the screen treatment of his story, "Pied Piper Malone," which will be Thomas McElghan's next Paramount picture, has returned to the Paramount Long Island studio to begin work on the scenario. The story is an original by Mr. Tarkington and many of the scenes will be filmed at Mr. Tarkington's summer home in Maine. Mr. Geraghty said that many of the summer residents were remaining in Kennebunkport just waiting for the picture company to come.

Mr. McElghan and his director, Alfred B. Green, with a technical staff, will arrive in New York from the coast the latter part of this month and will go immediately to Maine to film the exterior scenes for the picture.
